

Caitriona Sherlock

Caitriona Sherlock is a Traditional Singer from County Monaghan. She began traditional singing at age seven, fell in love with the songs and stories of old and now has three All Ireland Fleadh Cheoil titles under her belt. In 2016 she sang Amhrán na bhFiann at the Ladies All Ireland final in Croke Park. Caitriona is a graduate of UCD where she studied a Bachelor of Music degree and was an esteemed member of The Choral Scholars with whom she has recorded under Signum Records. Caitriona had the pleasure of travelling to New York in 2019 where she sang in Carnegie Hall and on CBS television over the St Patrick's weekend. She has a great grá for traditional singing and hopes to see it continue to grow by handing it on to her students and by sharing to a wider audience through her travels.

<https://youtu.be/gkupchsf06s> - Courting is a pleasure (with Choral Scholars)

<https://youtu.be/UwGNpzCIQAU> - Slan le maigh

<https://youtu.be/x0cYZzVPnAA> - Orphan Girl